Enterprise Document Management Symposium 2017 - The Digital Office

Kananaskis Lodge, Kananaskis, Alberta
May 8th – 10th, 2017

Overview

In today's corporate world, many organizations are being moved to formulate strong electronic document management strategies. There are a number of factors that are serving as catalysts for developing these strategies—exploding amounts of information to dissect, compliance with legislation aimed at freedom of information and the protection of privacy, capturing and retaining the knowledge and expertise from those people poised to retire due to the changing demographics of our workplace, to name a few. Ultimately, all organizations are trying to achieve quick and accurate access to current and relevant information in order to enable fast well-informed decision making.

What You Will Discover

The Digital Office event is an opportunity for you to learn from your peers. You will learn how other organizations have transformed from paper based business processes to document-centric digital processes. You will learn entirely new digital ways of doing business.

The Goals of the Symposium are to:

Profile promising practices on the implementation of electronic document management solutions.

Engage users in sharing successes as they expand their network of contacts.

Build a community of practice for on going interorganizational support.

Build the Vision and provide a forum for reviewing new technologies.

Symposium Highlights

10 speakers and workshops led by business and academic leaders from across Canada.

The opportunity to network with your peers at a optional evening tour/dinner.

New Technology Workshop Session – IT professionals can meet with Xerox Product Marketing and Technical Resources.

Meet with industry experts on digital transformation strategies. NEW

Learn about workflow automation solutions from other organizations. NEW
